SCHOOL EXPOSITION TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK AT VARIOUS SCHOOLS

Display of Work at Different Points on Different Days is Arranged

INVITATIONS TO BE ISSUED

Manual Training, Domestic Science and Commercial Work to be Displayed at High School Gymnasium On Last Day of Week.

Next week will be school exposition week in the Charleroi schools, with the result that there will be a general showing of the work done by the pupils of the various schools during the term. Invitations will be issued shortly and a day is being set apart for each.

Probably the most unusual display will be at the high school building because of the arrangement there of the manual training, commercial and domestic science work. The manual training and the domestic science showing will be the first in the history of any school here. Numerous articles have been prepared. In the manual training department much proficiency has been shown and the carpentering and other work that has been done would be a credit to skilled mechanics.

The first day of the exposition will be Monday and the fifth street school will at this time have their display. The complete schedule is as follows:

Tuesday—Fourth street building.
Wednesday—Second street building.

Thursday—Crest avenue building
Friday—High school gymnasium.
Friday—Fifth street building for fifth and sixth grades.

The school displays will be similar to those shown each year consisting of samples of writing, drawing and other department work.

WILL TALK OVER BASEBALL MATTERS AT LYCEUM SMOKER

At the regular monthly smoker of St. Jerome's Lyceum to be held next Sunday afternoon at the Lyceum rooms, matters pertaining to the organization of a baseball club for the season will be taken up. Players will be selected. St. Jerome's has a good team in prospect this year, having a good number of able players to call upon, including practically all of those who last year represented the lyceum.

GENERAL LOGAN ARRANGES FOR ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

Gen. A. J. Logan, commander of the Second Brigade National Guards of Pennsylvania, has announced that the annual encampment of the Second Brigade, the Fourteenth regiment and the Signal Corps will be held August 7 to 14 on a site one mile and a half south of Indiana, Pa., and two miles and half from the site of last year's encampment which lay to the north of the town. The decision as to the site was reached following a trip to Indiana by Gen. Logan and his staff.

MALTAS TO WITNESS CONFERRING OF DEGREES ON BRADDOCK CLASS

Half Hundred to go From Charleroi Tonight to Witness Red Cross and Sepulchre Exemplification.

Members of Valley Echo Commandery No. 379, Knights of Malta to the number of about 50 are expected tonight to go to Braddock to witness the conferring of the Red Cross and Sepulchre degrees on a large class. With the local party will go another large party from Bentleyville and Fayette City, so that from this entire region there will be a delegation of about 100 Maltas. The degrees are the highest in the order. They were conferred upon a class of nearly 100 at Charleroi last week, together with other degrees by Sir Knight Commander A. E. Corns of Uniontown and a team.

BARNES TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION

Orchardist to Show How Spraying is Done to Insure Growth of Apple Trees

COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY

P. T. Barnes of the corps of experts in the employ of the state agricultural department, has arranged for a number of spraying demonstrations in orchards of Washington and Greene counties next week.

To produce apples free of worms is the ambition of all growers and to accomplish this the right kind of spraying must be done at the right time.

"On account of the very short time in which spraying can be done and to reach as many persons as possible in this period," two demonstrations will be held on some days. The schedule in this county follows:

Wednesday, May 5—State normal school, California.

Thursday, May 6, at 9 a. m.—Dr. J. K. Smith, Charleroi.

Thursday, May 6, at 1 p. m.—Children's Home, Arden.

Friday, May 7, at 9 a. m.—William Meloy's near Mt. Hope church.

Friday, May 7, at 1 p. m.—Dr. J. K. McCready, near Murdocksville.

FORD OWNERS TO GET $2,000 IN DISTRICT

Melon Slicing Scheme Will Prove Beneficial Here--Plan of Company is to Give $50 to Each Purchaser Since Last August

Through its general melon slicing scheme the Ford Motor company, makers and distributors of the Ford automobiles, will have something like $1,550 or $2,000 to distribute in this territory after August 1.

Last year Henry Ford said that the company would share its profits with its customers if its sales aggregated 300,000 cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915. Each customer was to receive $50.

Assurances are now given that the 300,000 will be reached by August 1, so according to Mr. Ford, the unforeseen distribution of $50 to each customer will begin on August 1 of this year.

To date since the order went into effect the Elite Garage, which handles the Ford, has sold in its territory 37 cars. Fifty dollar bills, checks, as the case might be, come up rapidly, so that for the 37 which have been sold already $1,850 will be distributed. Then others are being sold right along and they will bring the sum total up, at a guess, to something more than $2,000.

HOME GARDENING PLAN MAY BE ADOPTED HERE

Duquesne's Methods to be Described by Steel Company Official Tomorrow Night in Illustrated Lecture--Child Welfare Circle Starts Movement

Home gardening, a subject taken up by the Charleroi Child Welfare Circle at its Wednesday afternoon meeting in the public reading rooms will receive an impetus tomorrow evening, when Assistant Superintendent E. J. Hamilton of the Carnegie Steel company at Duquesne will appear to give a lecture at the Circle theatre. Stereopticon views will be thrown on the screen and they will be explained by Mr. Hamilton.

At the meeting of the Welfare Circle Miss Lena Thomas, who is in charge of the home gardening work at Duquesne spoke, being introduced by the president of the Circle, Mrs. W. B. Pfeiffer. Miss Thomas described home gardens and the way in which they are taken care of. She also told of how children are interested in garden work and towns beautified. Present at the meeting were Dr. F. C. Stahman, a member of the school board; John B. Scafer, president of the Charleroi Business Men's Association and Dr. Edwin McKay of Community Club No. 1 as invited guests.

Announcement was made of the coming tomorrow of Assistant Superintendent Hamilton. The Child Welfare Circle is instituting a movement for home gardening in Charleroi, and this is virtually the start. Children will be interested as well as adults.

MONEY FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HIGHWAYS IS MEAGRE

Robert J. Cunningham, New Highway Commissioner so Informs Cambria County Delegation.

To a delegation of Cambria County citizens who waited on him Wednesday to inquire as to the probable appointment of State highway expenditure to that county during the coming season, Robert J. Cunningham, the new State Highway Commissioner, announced at Harrisburg that in all probability the money available for permanent road construction would be small.

Commissioner Cunningham said the policy of the department would be to carry out Governor Brumbaugh's idea of first taking care of the maintenance of the 10,000 miles of State highways, devoting any additional funds to reconstruction.

Notice.

The Frances Willard class of the Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained by Mrs. S. R. Grimm Friday evening at her home, 614, corner of Fifth street and Crest avenue. 253-1*

MARRIES GIRL HE SAVED FROM DROWNING YEAR AGO

Miss Emma Dodge of Belle Vernon Becomes the Bride of James Cleary at Canton, Ohio.

News of the marriage of Miss Emma Dodge of Belle Vernon to James Cleary of Pittsburgh has received by friends of the couple. The ceremony was performed at Canton last week at St. Joseph's Catholic church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dodge of Belle Vernon and is well known here and Mr. Cleary is well acquainted here, having made many visits to this vicinity.

The young lady told her parents nothing of the coming marriage when she left to spend the week end with friends in Pittsburgh although they were aware of her intentions to wed soon. The couple are now at Canton where they will make their temporary home. Mr. Cleary is employed there by the Casey Construction company of Pittsburgh and has charge of extensive construction work going on at that place.

The affair has a little romance connected with it. Miss Dodge was rescued from drowning in the river near here last summer by Mr. Cleary and it may be said the marriage is the culmination of a watery romance.

UNIONTOWN SEEKS SAFETY GRADE CROSSINGS: AWAITS CITY COUNCIL

Under Third Class Law Safety Gates Can be Enforced--Proposes To End Chance of Hazard.

When Uniontown becomes a third class city in 1916, council there may by an ordinance enforce the erection of safety gates and the stationing of watchmen at dangerous grade crossings. Had Uniontown as a borough had and have evaded this right, without doubt, the lives of the wife and sister of Captain W. S. Craft, county treasurer of Judge J. K. Ewing and of several others would have been saved. All of these and other persons were killed by B. & O. trains at the dangerous Fayette street crossing.

Under the corporate powers of a city of the third class the act of June 27, 1913 gives council power to require the erection of safety gates and the placing of flagmen at the intersection of railroads with public streets; to forbid the obstruction of the said crossings by locomotives or railroad cars; and also to make regulations concerning the rate of speed at which locomotives, cars, or trains shall pass upon or cross the streets within the built-up portions of the city.

PARK SEASON TO OPEN ON MAY 21

Announcement Made of Three Dates for School Picnics at Eldora

CHARLEROI PICNIC, MAY 26

Friday, May 21 is the day that has been selected as the opening date of Eldora park for the season of 1915. In preparing for this date Manager Tom P. Sloan and Assistant Manager Roy S. Sharpnack, the same officials who conducted the popular amusement place last year, are having the park buildings renovated and everything put in shape for an anticipated successful season. The last two seasons were good ones.

Nothing of a special nature has yet been booked for the opening date, but three school picnics have been already booked for the week that is to follow.

The first school picnic of the season will be that of the Donora schools on Saturday, May 22, the day after the opening of the park. Next will come the Charleroi school picnic on Wednesday, May 26, this to be followed the next day by the Monongahela school picnic.

In booking the school picnics of these three towns, an unusually difficulty was struck by Assistant Manager Sharpnack. All three wanted the same date, which was May 27.

S. L. Woodward's Business Taken Over by Large and Well Organized Company.

STATE CHARTER APPLIED FOR

Incorporators Whose Names Are Published in Charter Notice are S. L. Woodward, Charles Pearce and Charles S. VanVoorhis.

An important transaction in mercantile circles has taken place within the last few days, with the result that on Saturday a stock company known as the Woodward Furniture and Carpet company will formally take over the furniture store and business of S. L. Woodward on McKean avenue for operation on a much enlarged scale. Stock taking is now in order and a charter notice is being published that application for a state charter will be made to the governor on Monday, May 17. The incorporators whose names are published in the notice are S. L. Woodward, Charles Pearce and Charles S. VanVoorhis.

Well known business men composed the new company, which has already organized by electing S. L. Woodward president. The directors are Rudolph Half, a well known carpet and furniture dealer of Pittsburgh; Frank Wright, a prominent furniture man of Monaca; S. L. Woodward; R. C. Mounter and Charles S. VanVoorhis. The majority of the stock is held in Charleroi.

The Woodward store in the Woodward building on McKean avenue is being enlarged and renovated to care for the immense volume of business that the company expects to handle. The basement is being deepened and put in shape for an additional show room. Then the store will have the use of the first and second floors, the same that Mr. Woodward has had in conducting his business. According to the charter the company will be in position to conduct a wholesale and retail mercantile business, including the manufacture and sale of household furnishings.

In transferring a share of his interests to the new firm Mr. Woodward will partially retire from activity. He has been in business in Charleroi for 15 years and for month, having started first in the grocery business at 421 McKean avenue.

Mr. Woodward came to North Charleroi from Fayette county to accept employment as a clerk in the store of George Vandershice 16 or 17 years ago. After a time he became a partner of Mr. Vandershice and later bought him out entirely, later locating at 421 McKean avenue. He conducted a business at this location for some years, and then returned to North Charleroi to enter business. Some years ago Mr. Woodward embarked in the furniture business at his old location at 421 McKean. His rapidly increasing business outgrew this location and a year ago he purchased the Woodward building on McKean near Fifth street, which he has occupied since last June. He has been successful in

LESSER INDIAN DEATH RATE

Statistics Seem to Show That the Race
Is Beginning to Build Up Again.

The physical decline and the alarming death rate of the American Indian of today is perhaps the most serious and urgent of the many problems that confront him at the present time.

The death rate is stated by government officials at about thirty per thousand of the population—double the average rate among white Americans.
From the same source we learn that about seventy thousand in the United States are suffering from trachoma, a serious and contagious eye disease, and probably thirty thousand have tuberculosis in some form.

The death rate from tuberculosis is almost three times that among the whites.

These are grave facts and cause deep anxiety to the intelligent Indian and to the friends of the race.

Some hold pessimistic views looking to its early extinction; but these are not warranted by the outlook. For, in spite of the conditions named, the last three censuses show a slight but continuous increase in the total number of Indians.

Nor is this increase among mixed bloods alone; the full-blooded Indians are also increasing in numbers. This

CLAIMS $10,000 FOR INJURIES ON TRAIN

Woman Asserts She Was Thrown While Boarding Passenger Car at Finleyville By Starting of Train--Husband Also Wants Damages.

Jessie C. Salzman and Charles A. Salzman, her husband, have filed a suit in this county against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co., as a result of personal injuries received by Mrs. Salzman in boarding a train at Finleyville. There is claimed $10,000 on behalf of the wife, and $1,000 on behalf of the husband. The accident occurred on June 26, 1913.

On that date, according to the statement filed, Mrs. Salzman purchased a ticket at Finleyville for Glenwood and attempted to board the train, having in her arms a baby. Mrs. Salzman avers that when she was in the act of getting aboard and had reached the second or third step of one of the coaches, the train started with a sudden jerk. She avers she had not time to reach a seat and as a result of the starting of the train was thrown violently against the iron railing of the platform, striking her right side.

Further, she claims the ligaments or cartilages were torn from three of her ribs, injuring her inwardly and causing her to suffer much pain and nervous shock. She says she still suffers these injuries, which interfered with her sleeping and with properly caring for her child. Also that she has been unable to carry on her household duties, being unable to go up and down stairs and was compelled to rely on hired help.

The husband says he has been required to expend large sums for hired help as well as for medical attention for his wife.

For Sale.

FREIGHT CARS TO ALL HAVE ROUTING CARDS

Beginning May 1, by the common agreement of the carriers, every freight car that is started from any point will have affixed to it what will be known as a "continuous home card," which, when properly endorsed, will enable any railroad to trace back to its destination from which it received a car, such as when, however, disintegrated the connection may be to receive it. The card will show both ways, however, and a reluctant connection can, in turn, pass the empty car for which it had no use on to the connection from which it received it and so on back until the car shall have arrived on the rails of the road by which it is owned.

PRAYER BOOK SAVED A LIFE

Stopped Bullet That in All Probability Would Have Been Fatal to English Soldier.

A petition has recently been presented to the consistory court of London, by the vicar and church wardens of St. George's, Old Brentford, asking for a faculty to authorize the hanging of an oak box with a plate glass front, on the wall of the church, to hold a prayer book and the leather bag in which it was kept in the pocket of Drummer George Charles Edward Court, and the bullet by which it was struck during the battle of the Marne. When Drummer Court, who belongs to the Middlesex regiment, was leaving for the front, his fiancée, on bidding him good by, gave him a small prayer book, and asked him to carry it in his left breast pocket. At the battle of the Marne, Drummer Court, finding that the prayer book seemed to press too heavily on the clasp of his suspenders, transferred it to his left trousers pocket. Shortly afterward a sharp burst near, killing six men and wounding 14, Drummer Court, who was unhurt, afterward discovered a hole in his suspenders and found that the ivory back of the prayer book was torn, while at the bottom of a little leather bag, in which the book was kept, lay a bullet. As a thank-offering for his preservation the drummer desired to present the prayer book, together with the damaged leather bag and the bullet, to be kept in St. George's church, Old Brentford, for all time. The request was granted.--Living Church.

FUTURE FOR AMERICAN INDIAN

Leader of the Race Sees Good to Come of Inter-marriage With the Whites.

Speaking of his own race, Dr. Charles A. Eastman, an American Indian, says:

"It is too late, however, to save his color; for the Indian young men themselves have entirely abandoned their old purpose to keep aloof from the racial melting pot. They now intermarry extensively with Americans and are rearing a healthy and promising class of children.

"The tendency of the mixed bloods is toward increased fertility and beauty as well as good mentality. This cultivation and infusion of new blood has relieved and revived the depressed spirit of the first American to a noticeable degree, and his health problem will be successfully met if those who are entrusted with it will do their duty.

"My people have a heritage that can be depended upon, and the two races at last in some degree understand one another. This is his native country, and its affairs are vitally his affairs, while his well-being is equally vital to his white neighbors and fellow Americans. I have no serious concern about the new Indian, for he has now reached a point where he is bound to be recognized."

Shooting at Bisley.

Sunday shooting at Bisley for the first time. And one is reminded how legislators of the past fixed Sunday is the day for practice with bow and arrows. Thus an act of Richard II laid down how the day should be spent--"Forasmuch as divers artificers, laborers, servants and groom, keep greyhounds and other dogs, and on the holy days when Christian people be at church, they go a' huntin' in parks, warrens, coningries of lords and others to the very great destruction of the same." Such offense, of course, called for a remedy, and it was ordered that none but laymen with 40 shillings and clerks with £13 should keep dogs or use ferrets, but instead these servants and laborers were to "have bows and arrows and to use the same on Sundays and holy days, and leave all playing at football and other importunate games."--London Chronicle.

Belgian Police Dogs.

The use of dogs as regular assistants to the police originated in Ghent, Belgium. About fifteen years ago the first experiment was made with three Belgian shepherd dogs. So great was the success with them that the number was gradually increased until Belgium had almost as many dogs as men on its police force. This held true up to the time of the war. Each dog wore a leather collar with his name and number, and his record was kept as carefully as that of the policemen. The dogs were first made familiar with all places that might afford hiding for criminals. At night they were sent out with the men and when released would run around among all these places. If anyone was found a dog would bark and immediately the police followed him up.

Her Leg a Barometer.

It's no joke to have one normal leg and another that persists in acting as a barometer. So declares Mrs. Mattie Felber, who is suing the city for $10,000 damages. She also objects to having to wear shoes two sizes larger than she has been accustomed to wear and to have to forego dancing.

In her petition she charges that as she alighted from a street car she stepped into a defect in the roadway and so injured her left limb that the foot swelled permanently.

"In damp and cloudy weather my left limb acts as a sort of barometer," she said. "I can tell by the pain whether it will clear up or not."--Cleveland Dispatch to the New York Herald.
